Man on the Moon

Pre-learning homework

Our topic after the Easter holidays is based on the first man on the moon.

In order to get you ready for this topic, I would like you to start researching space.

First, see if you can find out the names of all the planets and what they look like.

Then choose your favourite one and make a fact file about it.

You will need to include:

- A picture
- Name of the planet
- Distance from the sun
- What is made from
- Any fascinating facts about it

Think about an interesting way to present your work and send me photos of how you do it.

Have fun!
