Computing

You have worked really hard this term on your computing and I have really enjoyed watching the animations that you have made.

As it is the end of the year, you can have free choice of any activity on Purple Mash today. You might like to use the apps that we have used this year to practise your skills, or you might want to be brave and try something completely new.

Have fun with it, and if you do anything you are really proud of, don't forget to save it so that I can have a look at it.
